Endings (3)	end_teller, end_vengeance, end_wheel — 3:1 paintings, Gen-4.5 at 21:9, about 120 credits each
Key scenes (8)	scene_women_field and the 7 homelands (Anga, Gandhara, Hastinapura, Mathura, Matsya, Nishada, Panchala) — 16:9, Gen-4 Turbo, 50 each
Test stages (29)	game/art/stage_*.jpg — 16:9, no people painted in, Gen-4 Turbo, 50 each

Prompt lessons from this batch

• Open foregrounds attract walkers. Name the empty floor or ground and say no one enters from any side. When people still drift in late, the first 6-7 seconds are clean and can be trimmed.

• Let the actor move. For action (the river, Karna's wheel, the walkers) drop "keep every body exactly as it is" for those figures, or the action is held back.

• Describe objects, don't name them. "Dice" produced cube dice; "three long thin ivory sticks already in the picture" kept the painted pieces.

• Give big changes a timeline. The fire spread only once the prompt said what happens in the first seconds and by the end.

• Fix the count. "Exactly seven boys and no other people at any time" stopped an invented figure.

- 21:9 needs Gen-4.5. Gen-4 Turbo only does 16:9 and taller, so the 3:1 paintings cost about 2.4x as much.

Every clip still needs the advisory review for faces, hands and canon figures (Rebuild_Decisions section 10) and the AI disclosure for Steam before public use.
